On Thursday, July 20th, my Fujifilm FinePix S9000/S9500 camera was stolen from my car. It is a large black camera and it was in a Sony bag. It also had several memory cards including a Hama 512 MB compact flash and an Olympus 1 GB XD card. The camera and the photos are very special to me, and I really want them back. Even if I can just have the photos back, that would be something. If anyone has a child who has come home with a new camera, or has been approached to purchase a camera, please let me know, or contact the MPs. I can be reached at Kelly.sarles@us.army.mil. I don't want to press any charges. I just want my photos back.
